SOLID SOUTH IS WAVERING

New Orleans Opposed as Panama Exposition City.

TEXAS FAVORS SAN FRANCISCO

Decided Falling Off in Enthusiasm in Lone Star State as Evidenced by Articles Appearing in Papers of El Paso and San Antonio—Swing in Line For the California City as the Logical Site.

While New Orleans is industriously claiming the endorsement of the Mississippi valley region and the middle west it is allowing the "solid south" to waver in its supposed allegiance and slip away.

A few days ago word came from San Antonio, Tex., that there was a decided falling off of New Orleans exposition enthusiasts in that city owing to the greed of the Crescent City in attempting to secure the National Bankers' convention for next year, after San Antonio had put in a bid for their entertainment. Such action was not considered neighborly, especially after the Texas city had been asked to support New Orleans in its struggle for exposition honors.

Now El Paso, Tex., has apparently swung into line for San Francisco as against New Orleans as the logical site for the Panama exposition, judging by the following in the El Paso Herald of Oct. 12:

"El Paso's interest as to the location of the Panama exposition of 1915 all lies with San Francisco as against New Orleans. As one commentator says: 'There never was an exposition so successful as that at Seattle, and there never was one so forlorn a failure as that at Jamestown, Va. notwithstanding the fact that half the population of the country is within a day's or a night's ride of Jamestown.' An exposition at San Francisco will promote the development of the west and that is what we are after."

Sometime ago New Orleans secured an endorsement in St. Louis and that success appears to have induced the belief among the Crescent City boosters that the entire middle west was only waiting for an invitation to climb on the New Orleans band wagon.

Next New Orleans announced that Omaha was for it, but the announcement was premature. In its hurry to report result the New Orleans bureau at Omaha sent broadcast over the country that New Orleans had been endorsed as the exposition city by the Commercial club, the largest and most influential organization of business men there.

Immediately the Commercial club held a meeting, repudiated the alleged endorsement of New Orleans and endorsed San Francisco by an overwhelming vote. The city council of Omaha, by unanimous vote, passed a resolution also endorsing San Francisco.

Still asserting title to the sympathy and influence of the entire middle west section, the New Orleans boosters descended upon Chicago and requested an endorsement. The request was politely but firmly refused, but New Orleans, nothing daunted, continued to "claim" Chicago's support, confident in the belief that the endorsement would come later. But on Oct. 7 Chicago showed unmistakably where she stood in the exposition fight when the National Business League of America adopted a resolution, which after setting forth the advantages of San Francisco, concluded: "That San Francisco be, and hereby is, strongly recommended as the proper site for the proposed exposition."

New Orleans suffered another rebuff when she sought the endorsement of Washington, D. C. Washington refused, whereupon the New Orleans promoters dismissed the subject with the remark that Washington did not count anyway.

New Orleans "hopes" to raise about $3,000,000 for her proposed exposition, which will be entirely inadequate for so great an undertaking, but Senator Foster of Louisiana seeks to minimize the importance of having sufficient funds to insure the success of the enterprise. Admitting that San Francisco will have more than twice as much money for exposition purposes as New Orleans, he pleads that "it would be mean and unfair for congress to take that fact into consideration."

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVE IN OHIO COLLEGES

The opening of colleges and universities throughout Ohio in the early fall of the year is accompanied by the opening of Y. M. C. A.'s in each such institution. The activity of the Association in connection with college work is scarcely appreciated by the outsider. Last year 3,800 or 43 per cent of the entire enrollment of Ohio colleges were members of the Young Men's Christian Association. From this figure it is easy to see that the Y. M. C. A.'s appeal to a far larger class than those who are expected to devote themselves to church work.

Not only is Ohio the mother of presidents, but it is also rapidly becoming the mother of state college secretaries, and even international Y. M. C. A. secretaries. Two Ohio boys are now international student traveling secretaries. In addition to this Ohio has furnished state traveling secretaries for college work in the following states: Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The compliment in the last two states is particularly marked, as Massachusetts and Rhode Island have long prided themselves on their educational institutions.

Overseeing this work in addition to the Secretaries directly sent out by the Y. M. C. A. are the heads of several of the leading schools of the state. Among these are Dr. W. O. Thompson, President of the Ohio State University, and Dr. Emory W. Hunt, President of Denison University. These men give much of their time to committee meetings, and to the general oversight of the work and living of the young men who come to their schools.

The College Association enters the life of the boy when he first leaves home, and through its employment department, its room registry, its receptions and activities in behalf of the new student, becomes a real factor in his college life. It is the student Young Men's Christian Association that directs the religious work and the social affairs of the college man. Association work in college needs special supervision, because the entire student body changes every four years and new leaders must be developed who will take a brotherly interest in the lower classes as they come to college so ready to look up to the upper classmen who have "done things." The fact that the Association has enlisted the active leadership of the best athletes and the social leaders accounts in no small measure for the success of the Ohio student associations.
